THE HOME TOWNERS
"THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLL.N COUNTY

▶ WELL THE football fans can certainly thank the Big D papers for the thorough coverage given McKinney High Lions games this year? Seems like in previous years when we were getting the socks beat off of us by some Dallas team, or any team for that matter, the head lines would read—"McKinney Gets Socked"—or "McKinney Bows to Etc." Well, we know the many things that papers have to contend with but we notice that almost every team in these parts are getting real publicity. Just to gain a point here, we noticed in a certain Dallas paper that McKinney and Gainesville will meet in McKinney to decide the District. There was 12 point head and an article about two inches long. Seems to Your Home Towners way of thinking with the number of subscribers that the Big D papers have in this area and the support that they are given in McKinney we should be considered a little more. These young McKinney High Lions have done a bang up job this year and have played their hearts out and deserve more than our "City Cousins" have given them. Seems like they don't appreciate our business in Dallas.

▶ LET'S Get the spirit—"Let's Beat Gainesville"—you will hear this not only one hundred times, not one thousand times but at least a million times this week in McKinney. Every business house in McKinney and every home are asked that when someone calls you to say immediately, "Let's Beat Gainesville." And you talk about a bon fire, well this Thursday evening one of the largest bon fires to be fired up will be fired and from what we gather it will be the largest bon fire every fired in the United States and it is reported that it will be so bright that the Gainesville football fans will think that all McKinney is on fire—and you can bet your last buck, McKinney fans are on fire and we will back the McKinney High Lions Friday night at Newsome Stadium with one of the largest crowds ever in the history of McKinney. Don't forget let's get in the beating stage and let's beat Gainesville. YEA, FIGHT, LIONS FIGHT!

Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Lindsey had as their week-end guests, the following students from A&M College: their son Orville Cate Lindsey, Don Smelling, Don Greene, Dickie McCarty, Pete Nessermitt and Roger Schewler. These boys are all seniors at A&M. They attended the SMU-A&M game in Dallas Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Giles, of Dallas, visited their parents, Mrs. Ham Giles and Mr. and Mrs. McCarley, in Dallas.

Mrs. Grover Burton spent the week-end in Dallas the guest of her brother, Burt Ford and wife.

First Contingent Of UN Police Go Into Action At Port Said

By DANIEL F. GILMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

LONDON (UP). — The first 197-man contingent of the UN police force to go into action was ordered today from its temporary canal zone base to Port Said.

The group has been marking time with other UN troops at Abu Sweir, awaiting the order which came today to move into the Suez Canal area invaded by Anglo-French forces.

A UN spokesman said the Anglo-French governments had agreed to the stationing of a UN emergency force UNEF company-sized detachment in Port Said city.

He said the Norwegians who make up the first contingent will proceed to Port Said as soon as they receive clearance from Anglo-French headquarters on Cyprus.

Area Is Troubled

The Norwegian soldiers, armed with rifles and light automatic weapons, were sent into the area where Anglo-French forces have clashed twice this week with the Egyptians in what each side called a violation of the cease fire by the other.

British and French salvage vessels were reported steaming toward both ends of the Suez Canal today in defiance of Egypt's declaration that it alone has the right to clear the waterway, plugged by numerous sunken ships.

Port Said, the Norwegians' destination, is at the northern end of the canal.

UN Forces Entrain

United Press Correspondent Gerald Arathoon reported from the temporary UN base at Abu Sweir, a former RAF station near Ismailia, that the UN troops were entraining for Port Said at noon 5 a.m. CST for the first UN police force duty.

Some 500 troops from Norway, Denmark, Colombia and Communist Yugoslavia have arrived in the old British base at Abu Sweir and the number is expected to swell eventually to 5,000 to 6,000 troops. They had not been expected to go to work this soon.

But rising tension in the Port Said area, where the Egyptians accused Anglo-French troops of committing "atrocities," was believed to have led to their early dispatch. They had been expected to await the arrival late today or Wednesday of their commander, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

◆ ◆ ◆

Tension Builds Up

Tension in the actual battle area was reflected in political developments in Cairo, London, Paris, Tel Aviv and at the United Nations.

Informed sources here and in Jerusalem reported a stiffened attitude toward Egypt despite repeated Egyptian threats to bring in Soviet volunteers unless the British, French and Israeli troops withdraw at once.

Salvage Begins

Original announcement of the Anglo-French plans to begin clearing the canaly from both ends came in a joint communique last Friday. Informed sources said today the salvage units were under way.

The communique said French Adm. Jean Champion would head the special salvage command.

Quick End To Dock Workers Strike Is Urged

NEW YORK (UP). — Federal mediators, backed by President Eisenhower, urged a quick end today to the longshoremen's strike paralyzing East and Gulf Coast ports for the fifth day.

All U.S. ports were immobilized Monday, for the first time in the nation's history, when the 16,000-member International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union staged a 24-hour sympathy walkout on the Pacific Coast.

The West Coast union returns to work today to await results of a referendum ballot on whether to support the 60,000 striking East Coast longshoremen.

250 Ships Tied Up

The strikes had tied up more than 250 passenger and cargo ships in ports on the three coasts.

The striking International Longshoremen's Association Ind. and the New York Shipping Association made little progress in negotiations Monday despite a White House plea to restore the vital flow of passengers and cargo.

Mediators meet with the shippers and the ILA again this afternoon.

Bon Fire, Rally Thursday Night

A big bon fire, sponsored by the Quarterback club will be the center of attraction Thursday night at 6:30 o'clock. The High School band, cheer leaders, and al lstudents are invited to attend the big pep rally, which will be held on the parking area, just South of the football field.

Merchants of the city are requested to save their cardboard boxes this week, which the FFA boys will collect Wednesday. These boxes will be used to kindle the fire. The boys will begin collecting boxes at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The bon fire and pep rally will stimulate interest in the final football game of the season, when the Lions meet the Gainesville Leopards here Friday night. The game will determine the district winner, and all of the fans are backing our home town team one hundred percent to win. The public is invited to join the school and quarterback club in this pre-game celebration.

Choosing Of Texas Senator At Standstill

AUSTIN (UP). — The fight over when and how Texas' new U. S. senator is to be chosen was apparently at a standstill today, despite a new plea from a senatorial aspirant for an early election.

State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston, who wants to succeed U. S. Sen. Price Daniel, Texas' governor-elect, Monday called on Daniel to submit an "unequivocal resignation."

Gov. Allan Shivers contends he cannot take any action to call a special election until there is actually a vacancy. He said a resignation submitted by Daniel and effective Jan. 15 does not create such a vacancy.

Daniel contends that an election can be called at once. He sent Shivers a telegram yesterday demanding that the governor make public "a copy of any legal opinions upon which you relied."

The prospective election or appointment of a new senator has particular significance, since the new U. S. Senate is due to line up with 49 Democrats and 47 Republicans. If a Republican succeeded Daniel, it would throw control of the Senate to the GOP, since Vice President Richard M. Nixon would have the tie-breaking vote.

First Cold Spell Of Winter Predicted

(By United Press)

A slow-moving cold front brought freezing drizzle to the Panhandle today and promised increased shower activity in Central and East Texas.

The leading edge of the front reached a line bounded by Bowie, Breckenridge and San Angelo at 8 a.m. today and continued slowly southeastward.

The U.S. weather bureau said the front would drop temperatures to 10 to 20 degrees tonight in Panhandle and Upper South Plains, 20 to 32 degrees in other portions of West Texas and 25 to 35 in North Central Texas.

◆ ◆ ◆

Snow Promised For Panhandle

Snow also was promised for the Panhandle tonight and early Wednesday with amounts of up to five inches expected.

Showers will fall today in East and South Central Texas with temperatures turning colder tonight. Lows of 30 to 40 degrees were forecast for Wednesday.

Although freezing drizzle fell in the Panhandle and light scattered rains fell in North Central Texas there were no measurable amounts up to 6:30 a.m. today.

The cold air mass moved into Texas from Colorado where snows of up to 15 inches fell Monday. But a flow of warm moist air from the Gulf kept temperatures balmy Monday in most of the state and provided a weird weather pattern for which the state is noted.

Laredo's Hottest

While temperatures dropped to 22 degrees this morning at Dalhart, Laredo Monday was the hottest place in the nation with an 86-degree reading. Winds kicked up dust in the El Paso area; light showers fell in the central area and along the coast.

There's Many Things To Be Thankful For

★ ★ ★

By H. D. QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK (UP). — This is Thanksgiving week, and the world is wound up taut enough to snap. What then, of this Thanksgiving?

For what to give thanks? Well precisely for what we've got.

First, for the good in the race of men around us. For the wide-eyed integrity of children. The dignity of the very old. The compasion shown the sick. The simple goodness of companionship.

Then, for nature and its prescribed autumn tranquilizers: The barbiturate of rain . . . the soft covering gauze of snow . . . the opiate of Indian summer, dizzy with wide-angle technicolor, spinning with breaths of what Emily Dickinson called the "altered air"

For Season, Give Thanks.

And for the man-made season—for the oncoming Christmas shopping and its sweet exasperation. For the shared misery of slush underfoot. For the creative anguish in making shopping lists . . . the denison of an overstuffed chair at the end of a shopping day . . . the perkiness of Christmas cards and the holiness of their import.

For turkey hash. Whatsamatter? It's food, ain't it?

For the smells. In New York, the tang of chestnuts whistle-roasting on the street corner. The close mingling smell of crowded department stores. For leaves to rake, and their brittle odor. For the bother of furnace troubles and the dusty dank of the furnace room as it gets its girding for the long winter.

◆ ◆ ◆

Even Carving Is Privilege.

For the chore of Thanksgiving cooking, with its rewards of tableside gluttony. Even for the chore of carving, where they separate the men from the boys.

They have to, so the boy can't hear the naughty words uttered by frustrated carvers.

For the Thanksgiving school holiday, when the kids have four days off and telephone calls and Elvis Presley fill the home.

Last and best, thanks for the gift of memory — and all the bright and autumn-mellow yeterdays of Thanksgiving.

ELIGIBLE FOR ANY COLLEGE . . .

YOUR SCHOOLS . . . TODAY

(Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles to acquaint the public with the curriculum, operation, some of the needs and problems of the McKinney Independent School District. These problems are the community's problem, as the schools are the yardstick by which a community is judged on its progressiveness and its look toward the future. An annual increase in the number of students poses problems of which the average citizen is not aware).

"Did you ever stop to think that a graduate from the McKinney school system is eligible to attend any college in the United States? That may be a fact that's taken for granted, but it's one that doesn't hold true for all schools.

"Why? Because the McKinney high school is fully accredited by the State Department of Education and the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges. To achieve this position, the school requires maximum curriculum planning, necessitating a sound program of basic studies plus a variety of elective subjects. A total of 16 credits is required through the four years of high school for a student to graduate.

These required subjects include four years work in English, three in mathematics, two in history, two in natural science or foreign language, either Spanish or Latin. The elective subjects are vocational agriculture, homemaking, band choral, which may be studied all four years; commercial subjects such as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business law and secretarial training; industrial arts, wood working and mechanical drawing; distributive education which may be studied in the junior and senior years; social studies, including American history, world history and civics; science, which embraces courses in general science, biology, chemistry, physics and zoology; speech, driver's education, physical and health education and journalism.

Varied Program

"We have designed our high school program with an overall view; that is, we want to give the child an opportunity to develop, by providing a complete training program in basic school courses and added subjects and activities to train him to be a good citizen with a well-rounded personality," Hailds Pearce, superintendent, explains. "Daily we have a 30-minute home room period, during which time various clubs meet, twice each month one of the local ministers teaches the International Sunday School Lesson. Every Monday morning we have a student present a devotional over the public address system. So you see, our students receive a variety of instruction."

Eighty-five per cent of the students participate in some type of club. These organizations functioning during the home room period once each week include the annual staff, which has its own camera and dark room, the student council, nurse's club, Key Club, Camera Club, FHA, math, tinker, record, disc jockey, FFA, athletic, tennis, badminton, future teachers, journalism, glee and choral clubs. Non-participating students remain in the study hall, which is monitored by teachers not sponsoring clubs.

Band For All Ages

To train a student on a particular instrument and to develop his personality in associating with others and to be an effective member of an organization is the aim of the band program in the schools. Beginning band is taught students in the fifth, sixth and seventh grades with sixth graders making up an intermediate band. If he has had previous band work, the student in the seventh or eighth grade participates in a junior high band. Students from the ninth through the twelfth grades make up the high school band, which now has about 71 members. All classes meet every day and there is a total of 181 students in the department this year.

George McCoy, director with Frank Todd as his assistant, points out that the school provides the uniforms and the more expensive instruments, but most students furnish their own instruments.

• • •

Increase Next Year

Crowded now in their quarters in a small room in the gymnasium, the 71-member band will increase to 80 next year, Mr. McCoy declares and his problem will be how to accommodate that many more students, plus their instruments. "It just doesn't seem possible we can cram a single other student in the room." But band is a popular course, as the organization ranks high in participation in school and community activities, performing at half-time at football games and marching in various parades during the year and presenting annual Christmas and spring concerts.

• • •

State Provides Text Books

For all these courses, in high school and elementary schools, the State of Texas provides the necessary text books, an astounding number and an amazing value. There are about 30,850 books in use in the McKinney schools this year, valued at approximately $75,000.00; new books placed in the system this year cost $13,436.00, according to Mr. Pearce. The most expensive book is that is that on American history, which costs $3.45 and a new supplementary reader costs $3.30.

Modern text books have interesting titles, such as Teen-Agers, Let's Drive Right, Homes With Character, Magic Carpet, Here We Go, Just Imagine and Away We Go To Mexico, to mention a few.

"You see, our text books keep abreast of the changing times and attitudes of our students and it is our responsibility to provide modern facilities and adequate room to accommodate them. The condition that exists in our band department is only of the many we have in every department in elementary as well as high school. Please let us repeat that the necessity of expanding our school system is now at hand or we lose our present standing in the education field," Mr. Pearce declares.

County Funds For Mineral Survey Declared Illegal

Several months ago, Wood County, along with five other East Texas counties, approved a $1,000 expenditure to conduct an extensivesive mineral survey under the sponsorship of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. IN DELIVERY SERVICE 37 YEARS; STARTED IN MODEL-T

A McKinney man has in the past 37 years, traveled more than three quarters of a million miles — in McKinney. That is an average of about 400 miles per wek.

W. H. Long better known to his host of friends as "Shorty" probably holds the record, when it comes to traveling over McKinney streets. He also has another distinction, that of holding one job for as long, if not longer, than any other employe in the city.

Mr. Long is in the delivery service of the McKinney Laundry, with which concern he began working 1919. When he was a young man he came to McKinney and was employed at a local confectionary for a short period of time. Later he was employed by Fred Brannon, Edd G. West and Claud Brannon, owners of the old McKinney Steam Laundry. He operated a Model-T Ford truck made without doors or windshield, as he went about his work of collecting and delivering laundry for his patrons.

Today he has a modern big delivery truck, designed especially for this type of work. The new truck makes possible quicker deliveries and a better handling of the items.

At the time the McKinney Steam Laundry burned, a few years ago, it was one of the oldest businesses in McKinney. Today it operates in a modern and commodious building with the very latest of equipment. Mrs. Edd G. West is the owner, assisted by her sons, W. R. (Bill) and Benjamin West, who actively manages the business.

Mr. Long in relating his experiences of 37 years states that he has seen McKinney grow from a small town to a progressive little city, having tripled its size in population and extended its boundaries on all sides. Over 30 years ago only the man thoroughfares and business district enjoyed the convenience of comfort of paved streets. Today practically every street within the city limits is paved, for all-weather traveling. The black-topping of the streets was one of the steps made by the city which was really welcomed by Mr. Long, whose work takes him into all parts of town, and over all streets.

In his reminiscing he also remembers when the old Interurban station was located on the Southwest corner of the public square,—now Franklin's dress shop. At that time practically all business houses were around the public square, with wagon yards and delivery stables located on the side streets extending out of the business district. There were only a few garages or service stations then, as very few cars were in operation.

Mr. Long is a native, Collinite, born and reared in the Climax Community a few mives Northeast of McKinney. His wife, the former Miss Minerva Shipman, was also reared at Climax. They are both members of pioneer Collin families which settled in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Long have resided in McKinney all of their married lives, and have identified themselves with the various circles of the city. They are active members of the First Christian Church. Their only child is Mrs. Joe Bill Griffin of Plano. The former Miss Dorothy Long. They also have two fine grandsons, Joe Bill Jr., 15 years of age, and Freddie 8 years old.

Throughout the years that Mr. Long has been associated with the McKinney Laundry he has only missed five days of work, due to illness exeecpt for his usual two weeks' vacation each summer. His cheery disposition alert and efficient handling of this job and friendlines to the many people with whom he comes in daily contact, all combine to make him a popular and beloved McKinney citizen. A happy smile, a friendly wave and a pleasant greeting are characteristic of "Shorty" Long.

Celina Defeats Allen Eagles By 41 To 14 Score

Allen's loss of 41 to 14, Thursday night in Celina, failed to keep them out of the top place in District 15 six-man football.

Ray Pinion was Celina's outstanding player for the evening scoring all six touchdowns, and making one extra points. Celina made two points on a safety.

Allen scores were made by Wayne Stratton and Cundiff, both on pass plays. One of the thrills of the game was in the third quarter when Stratton of Allen intercepted a pass and ran 54 yards to score. Celina came back when Pinion intercepted a pass and raced 46 yards to score.

This was the final game for Celina, but Allen goes to bi-district against Community, winner of the game with Lone Oak Thursday night.

District Championship Here On Friday Night

By NORMAN SCOTT

McKinney downed Mt. Pleasant, 27-12; Greenville edged Gainesville 6-0; and Paris defeated Sulphur Springs 33-20, in District 6-AAA action last week.

The McKinney eleven took over undisputed leadership in the district with their convincing win over the Tigers as the Gainesville crew fell before Les Cranfill's Greenville team. McKinney and Gainesville were tied for the loop lead before last Friday night's games.

The district championship will be decided this Friday night in McKinney when the Leopards come to town, and the Lions can win the title with a tie or victory, however, if the Leopards win the game, they will represent the district in the state play-offs although both teams actually would share the title, percentage-wise.

Most observers are picking McKinney to come through with a win over Gainesville. Anyway, several thousand fans will be at Newsome Stadium Friday night to see which team meets the Garland Owls, winners in District 5-AAA in the first round of the state play-offs.

Billy Hooten scored the only touchdown of the game in the Greenville-Leopards affair at Gainesville when he hauled in a pass from Ed Treadway. Greenville just about bottled up the Leopard attack by holding them to only six first downs.

Frank Jackson was on the loose again as he scored three touchdowns against Sulphur Springs in a game played at Paris. Willie Goforth accounted for the other two Wildcat 6-pointers. Jerry Moss and Mike McMullen carried the offensive load for Sulphur Springs.

Five different players got into the scoring act in McKinney's win over Mt. Pleasant with fullback Gerald Marshall, halfbacks Kenneth Locke and Charlie McIntire and end Joe Powell credited with a touchdown apiece, while end Don Wharton continued his accurate kicking with three conversions. Fullback R. E. Dodson accounted for both of the Tiger 6-pointers.

Jackson continues to set the pace in the scoring column with 22 touchdowns for 132 points. Dodson is still in the runner up spot with 15 touchdowns and 19 extra points for a total of 109. Marshall of McKinney holds down third place behind Jackson and Dodson with 48 points on 8 touchdowns.

The district closes out its schedule Friday night with Gainesville at McKinney, Paris at Greenville, and Mt. Pleasant at Sulphur Springs.

McKinney Wins Over Mt. Pleasant By Score 27-12

By NORMAN SCOTT

The McKinney High Lions downed the Mt. Pleasant High Tigers, 27-12 at Newsome Stadium Friday night in a District 6-AAA game before a large crowd of chilled spectators.

After the Lions spotted the Tigers a first period touchdown, a 66-yard scamper by fullback R. E. Dodson on Mt. Pleasant's first play from scrimmage, the McKinney eleven dominated the tilt the remainder of the way for their fourth straight conference victory.

The Lions received the opening kick-off and moved to the Tiger 34 where a fumble stopped the drive and set the stage for Dodson's run for the first score of the game. Dodson, on a quick opener up the middle, found daylight and outdistanced the Lion secondary for the tally but his point after try was blocked.

Following the ensuing kick-off and an exchange of punts late in the first quarter, the Lions went ahead to stay with 2:25 left in the opening stanza. Charlie McIntire fielded Dodson's punt on the Lion 43 and returned to the Tiger 43 and two plays later the Lions had counted. On the first play from the Tiger 43 McIntire hit left tackle for 2 and then fullback Gerald Marshal cut inside his own left end and evaded two Tiger tacklers in the secondary to go all the way on a 41-yard gallop. End Don Wharton split the uprights to give the Lions a 7-6 lead.

Early in the second period, McKinney stopped a Mt. Pleasant fourth down effort for a first down on the Tiger 41 and had their second 6-pointer on the scoreboard seven plays later. From the Tiger 41, substitute fullback James Howard and halfback Bob Byrd collaborated to move for a first down on the 29. Howard then made 2 at right tackle after a Robert Joplin to Byrd aerial was incomplete on the 15. On the next play, Joplin connected with end Joe Powell around the Tiger 15 and he slipped by two Tiger secondary defenders for the remaining distance. Wharton again converted to give the Lions a 14-6 margin.

The Tigers were unable to move after the ensuing kick-off and Dodson got off a punt, good for 50 yards to the Lion 18.

The Lions then proceeded to move 82 yards for their third touchdown before intermission. From the 18, Marshall picked up 14 at right tackle, McIntire added 14 at the opposite tackle and C. W. Williams also found running room at the left tackle spot for 16 to the Tiger 39. The Lion forward wall really turned in some crisp blocking on those three plays and it was evident that the Lions were on the move again.

After receiving a 15-yard holding penalty back to their 49; halfback Kenneth Locke managed 6 inside his own right end to the Tiger 43. Joplin found end Jerry Miller open for a 25-yard aerial gainer to the 18. From the 18, the Tigers received a 5-yard off-side penalty and Locke blasted left tackle for 5 and a first on the 8. McKinney then received another 15-yard holding penaly that moved the pigskin back to the 23 but Joplin passed to McIntire for 8 steps to the 16. On the next play, interference was ruled against the Tigers on the 2-yard marker on a Joplin to Locke pass, and McIntire hit left tackle for the touchdown with 2:41 remaining in the half. Fauty handling of the ball on the snap-back ruined Wharton's extra point try on this one. The halt ended with the Lions in the lead, 20-6.

Late in the third quarter, the Tigers recovered a Lion miscue on the McKinney 14 to set up their other touchdown. Dodson and halfback Jackie Morris moved within inches of the double-stripe and after a backfield-in-motion penalty that moved the pigskin back to the 5, Dodson found a hole at right tackle for the Tigers final score. Dodson's conversion try was again blocked.

Early in the final period, the Lions moved 57 yards in seven plays for their final tally featured by the running of Marshall and Joplin to McIntire pass for 34 yards. Locke climaxed the drive by going over from 2 yards out at left tackle. Wharton again converted to end the scoring for the night.

The Lions played conservative football for most of the second half and eased up on the Tigers for the final two periods after allowing the Titus County eleven only 1 first down in the first half as a result of the 66-yard run by Dodson.

Mt. Pleasant showed 147 rushing and 73 passing for the night with Dodson the work-horse of the backfield. He picked up 126 yards of the Tigers rushing total.

McKinney, with a balanced attack had 219 on the ground while adding 119 in the air on 6 completions in 15 attempts.

On defense, tackle Charles Reed and guard Ted Hines looked the best in the line for the Tigers, while halfback Marvin Chipman turned in a god performance in the secondary.

Head coach Joe Simpson of the Lions substituted freely during the contest and the entire Lion squad turned in a good all-around performance.

Marshall led the Lion ball carriers with 80 yards picked up on 11 carries, followed by McIntire who carried 8 times for 41. Williams showed 36 steps in 4 trips, and Locke had 31 in 6 tries.

Joplin connected on 5 passes in 9 attempts and Stewart chalked up the other completion for the Lions in his 3 attempts.

Joplin enginered the Lions most of the way and turned in another impressive performance as the man under and also at his inside linebacking post.

Let's give credit to the entire group of the Lion forward wall as they turned in some sharp blocking on offense and on defense, they were proved too stout for the Mt. Pleasant forwards to handle.

The Lions will met the Gainesville Leopards next Friday night at Newsome Stadium for the district championship.

Abilene, Snyder Expected To Lead Playoff Teams

(By United Press)

Abilene and Snyder, the No. 1 teams in their respective AAAA and AAA divisions of Texas schoolboy football, are favored to lead a parade of the final 16 teams into the state playoffs this week as the regular schedule comes to a close.

Abilene's task is expected to be a mite tougher than Snyder's but even the state's No. 4 team, San Angelo isn't expected to be a deterrent to Abilene's 33rd victory as the Eagles move out after their third straight state title.

Snyder should have things its own way against five-times beaten Lamesa, but an upset here could force that district into a three-way tie also involving Sweetwater.

Eight teams in each division already have clinched playoff berths and the other in eight in each much be settled by Saturday night.

Buffaloes Are Bowl-Bound; Planned That Way

BOULDER, Colo. (UP). — Colorado University's Buffaloes were bowl-bound for the first time since 1938 today and coach Dallas Ward disclosed he and the team had "planned it this way" since as early as last spring.

"We talked about it at spring practice and this a bowl bid was our goal" he said today. "We thought then we could do it."

The Buffs, by winning second place in the Big Seven Conference automatically became the conference's representative to the Orange Bowl Jan. 1 since champion Oklahoma appeared there last New Year's Day and cannot go again until another year.

The Buffaloes virtually assured themselves an Orange Bowl berth a week ago by tying Missouri, 14-14, but had to wait until Saturday when Oklahoma defeated Missouri to nail down the bid.

Colorado must yet face Arizona in a non-conference game at Tucson Saturday before ending the regular season and Coach Ward said today "we're going to worry about the Arizona game now" and hoped the thought of Orange blossoms wouldn't keep his team's attention from the well-regarded Wildcats.

Colorado last went to a bowl in 1938, when the Buffaloes lost to Rice in the Cotton Bowl.

RESEARCH SHOWS ANIMALS INHERIT ABILITY TO GAIN OR MAINTAIN WEIGHT ON LESS FEED

Federal-State research over the years has shown that the ability of some animals to put on or maintain body weight on less feed than is required by other animals of their breed is an inheritable quality. These findings, says L. A. Maddox, Jr., extension animal husbandman, point to possibility for increasing profit in livestock production by breeding animals that use feed more efficiency than present day commercial types.

In beef cattle, for instance, research by the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Beltsville, Maryland, and Miles City, Montana, has established the fact that rate of gain is a highly inheritable trait. In lines selected especially for ability to produce meat efficiently, steers put on 2½ pounds a day on the same feed that gives a gain of only 2 pounds in standard commercial strains. And these animals reach market finish with standard weight and carcass quality. Some unusual animals in test lots gain as much as 3 pounds a day, and research workers are sure that they can get these gains in the type and kind of beef cattle that breeders and markets prefer.

Comparison of research results indicates that breeding for feed efficiency can be applied profitably to all types of livestock production. Since feed represents the highest single production cost, anything which can be done to cut feed costs means more money in the stockman's pocket, says Maddox.

AGRICULTURAL RESEARCH IN TEXAS SUMMARIZED

Results of systematic agricultural research in Texas during the past 68 years are summarized in a pamphlet issued by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station entitled "Agricultural Research in Texas Since 1888."

Representatives of the then existing Texas agricultural organizations helped select the first seven experimental projects undertaken shortly the Station was created in 1888.

From these original seven studies, investigations underway have expanded by 1956 into about 375 formal research projects and a number of short-time exploratory test, all grouped into 25 research programs.

Research results are summarized in three main sections. The first shows accomplishments under the seven original projects; the second covers the period from 1888 to 1924; and the third and longest section gives the main contributions to agricultural knowledge by the Station during the 1950's.

Scientific research, the pamphlets points out, "has led again and again to larger yields of higher quality crops from the same acreages, to more efficient meat animals, to the control of insects and of plant and animal diseases and parasites, and to great reductions in labor and time costs of farm and ranch operation and otof the manufacturing and distributing processes which use agricultural products."

Major fields in which research is planned during the near future are enumeraed in the concluding section.

ENTERTAIN WITH EASE

Football weekends and the special holidays ahead will probably call for extra food and entertainment . . . Avoid last minute fuss and confusion by advance planning and preparation.

Arrange ahead for the foods to serve, preparation and service, table decorations, etc. . . . Unless you have lots of help, plan to keep things simple.

"Food and Fun With Friends," a special bulletin prepared by extension foods and nutrition specialists, will help you with planning and preparation.

The bulletin gives information on invitations, introduction of guests, recipes and suggestions for preparing refreshment plates for large or small parties. Teen-agers in the family will find the information helpful, too.

Get your copy of Food and Fun with Friends from your local county home demonstration agent, or write the Agricultural Information Office.

SHRUB HUNTING SEASON OPENS

Native shrubs of ornamental value are found in all parts of Texas . . . They add interest to farm and home grounds and save dollars, too.

Shrubs can be marked now and transplanted to the ground during the winter. It's easy to spot shrubs which have attractive berries and bright fall leaves at this time of the year. It's also easy to select the evergreen shrubs you may be looking for.

Valuable native plants are often found growing in nearby pastures, old fields, canyons and breaks . . . Those found near your home will be especially well adapted to the soil and climate and will usually thrive when moved to the home grounds. They may take less care than introduced plants.

There are many possibilities . . . Examples are the native hollies, bayberry, cherry laurel and Indian Cherry in East Texas. Evergreen sumac, mountain laurel, Texas Madrona, Texas Arbutus, cedars, and Arizona Cypress are found growing wild in Central and West Texas.

Shrub hunting can be fun for the whole family . . . This is the time of the year to enjoy it.

DOES IT PAY MAMA TO WORK AWAY FROM HOME?

Changes in modern living have caused an increase in the number of women and mothers who work outside the home.

The question of whether to work away from home or stay at home and devote full time to homemaking is one that many women face today. Here are some points to consider:

What will increased income be after extra expenses are deducted? Is it worth it? Extra expenses might include increased transportation costs, need for extra and better clothing, extra beauty care, lunches, baby sitters and perhaps hired help to do some house work.

When the mother works, chances are more money will be spent for food for the family. Amounts of partially prepared or ready-to-serve foods served usually increase due to lack of time for food preparation. More money usually goes for clothing as there often isn't time for repair and home sewing. Laundry and cleaning costs may go up because of shortage of housekeeping hours.

A final consideration: if mother works will she have enough energy to be able to work eight hours away from home then come home and do routine homemaking jobs and still be a happy pleasant mother and companion?

Postal Services For Christmas Mailing

Postal patrons this coming christmas season can speed the procesing and assure quicker delivery of their Christmas parcels and cards by availing themselves to various postal services and free postal information pamphlets, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

The services mentioned by the Postmaster General include:

1. This year, for the first time, seaseld parcels may be mailed at the third or fourth class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones Strong cord should also be used.

2. Combination mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself.

3. Certified Mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters cards or parcels having no intinsic value for a postal fee of 15 cents plus first-class postage.

The free postal pamphlets — available at all post offices — are entitled "Packaging and Wrayying Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees."

Becky Kasten, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Kasten, has been removed from the City-County Hospital to her home, 909 West Virginia Street. Becky underwent an appendectomy last week from which she is recovering nicely.

From Park Ave- To The Farm For Native Son

By FRANCES STOGDILL

From "Park Avenue to the farm" typifies a native son of Collin County — Tom Emerson — who, after several years in sales and executive work, is devoting his time to cattle raising.

Emerson, for many years prominently identified with one of America's biggest business concerns, is now enjoying life at Eversweet Farm, located on Rock Hill Road three miles West of McKinney. Mr. Emerson raises registered Hereford starting about 15 years ago in the commercial cattle business. However he has culled his stock until now he sticks strictly to registered blood lines — Zato being the most popular at the present time.

As previously mentioned he spent many years in sales work for the Conklin and Eversharp companies. He began selling fountain pens and razors in 1916, retiring from the company for a year and a half. In 1952 the Eversharp people called him back as general manager of the writing instrument division. He moved to New York and was vice president and general manager of the entire company at the time of his retirement in 1955. Mr. Emerson is still subject to call for the next two years, if needed in conference sessions, and consultation.

He expects to devote the remainder of his time to his cattle, having one of the most modern and best equipped small cattle ranches in this area. His farm contains 300 acres, which is adjoined by two blocks of land which he has leased, as well as 70 acres belonging to his manager Carl Renfro. All handling of the stock is done by Mr. Emerson, Mr. Renfro and the latter's 12-year-old son, Richard. The latter will be an FFA boy next year in school, and plans to study veterinary surgery when he enters college.

The Emerson farm was purchased in 1942, being known as the old James E. Herndon place. The house has been remodeled into a modern dwelling and many new buildings constructed on the farm. One of the biggest most modern barns in the county, is the pride of the Emerson ranch. A fully equipped medicine house, loading shoot with all of the facilities for easy handling of cattle add to the convenience of this farm. The big barn is 100 X 50 with space for storing 12,000 bales of hay. The corral, cutting pens, pens and traps all aid in easier handling of the stock. The steel gate makes possible the handling of an animal by two men, without injuring the animal or endangering the person. The buildings are well constructed, sunk in concrete, and follow the proper specifications for farm buildings.

There are six pastures, all beautiful and green now, following the recent rains. The pastures are rotated in order to protect them and at the same time provide green forage for the cattle, the year round.

Mr. Emerson is endeavoring to raise a show type animal, some of his herd having originally come from the McNatt Ranches of Greenville and Lone Oak, largest breeder of registered Herefords in Texas. He has a number of daughters out of Zato Heir 27, the sire of the McNatt ranch which carried a $50,000 life insurance policy. The owner once refused $100,000 for the animal.

The herd sire of the Emerson farm is Zato Heir L 12 son of the famous TR Zato Heir 50. There are 85 head now on the farm. The Emerson ranch had 100 per cent calf drop this year.

Mr. Emerson's main objective is to produce a beef type animal that will meet the requirements of the registered breeder and most especially the farmer. He emphasizes that farmers dealing in cattle will find far better results by availing themselves of a better bull, resulting in better calves, which will bring more money on the market. Last year, Mr. Emerson had 125 head of cattle but he has culled the stock, and expects to continue to bring the grade up in his animals.

There is not a wild animal in the herd, all having become pets to Mr. Emerson and his helpers. He gives them time and attention and handles them with care and ease. As a result he is producing a herd which is not only a credit to himself but his county as well.

McKinney Woman Is Worm Rancher --- And Politician

Mrs. Doyle Nelson has one regret about taking up her new duties as Collin County tax assessor-collecton next Jan. 1—she'll have less time to devote to her ranch.

Mrs. Nelson, a trim, attractive woman whose dark hair is highlighted with a touch of gray, hardly fits the popular image of a rancher. But then hers is scarcely an ordinary kind of ranch.

For Mrs. Nelson is proprietor, ranch boss, and chief cook of Nelson's Worm Ranch, a one-woman operation located at her home just north of McKinney.

Mrs. Nelson's husband has been unable to work since he suffered a stroke several years ago. To provide an income the couple first opened a trailer park next to their handsome brick home, which nestles in a grove of pecan trees well back from Highway 75.

Casting about for a way to supplement their earnings, Mrs. Nelson read of a successful worm ranching operation and decided to try it herself.

She invested $400 in a shipment of worms, a hardy brown species marketed by a California firm and installed them in specialy prepared beds, 20 feet long, 20 inches wide and 20 inches deep. The beds were filled with manure and cured with water for a 6-day period before the worms were placed in them.

So long as the beds are kept full and moist, the worms take care of the rest. They reproduce rapidly, doubling in number every 20 days. When they're nearly ready to market, Mrs. Nelson fattens them on a diet of laying mash and water.

They require little attention. "You can go on vacation and leave them without any worries" Mrs. Nelson says.

Severe storms are the only hazard in worm-ranching. Something about the rain and the rumble of thunder causes the creatures to crawl out of their beds and scatter in all directions. But this is easily prevented by leaving an electric light burning over the beds.

Mrs. Nelson's ranch is within easy driving distance of several notable fishing holes — Lavon, Garza-Little Elm, Texoma and Grapevine. She does both a wholesale and retail busines.

For the retail trade, the worms are packaged in batches of 50-plus in camouflaged beer cans. Unlike the garden variety of earthworm, which will die after a few days in such surroundings these worms will "keep" as long as two months if the can is packaged with manure and damp peat moss.

At times Mrs. Nelson has had as many as eight beds filled with worms. Since her venture into local politics last summer, she's maintained only three.

Incidentaly, the tax assessor-collector race was the lady rancher's maiden effort as a vote-getter. In the first Democratic primary she was matched against three men, including a veteran county employee, Lewis Baldwin, who was seeking a third term.

She led the ticket, then edged out Baldwin in the August runoff. Now she's looking forward to her new job with great enthusiasm.

As for worm ranching, she says she still "loves it."

"I'd recommend it as a good way for a boy or girl to pay for a college education" she says — Dallas News, Terry Walsh Staff Writer.

A least ten countries use the eagle as a symbol of supremacy.

Former McKinney Boy Gets Appointment To Naval Academy

The Denison Herald of Tuesday Nov. 13 carried a story to the effect that Tom Reed Murray 17 son of Mrs. Ione Murray, 826 W. Bond Street, had received a principal appointment through Speaker Sam Rayburn to the United States Naval Academy. He will take physical examinations shortly, followed later by entrance tests.

The appointment is effective with the start early next summer of the 1957-1958 semester.

Born in McKinney Murray has resided in Denison since 1953 when his mother became Home Economist for the Texas Power & Light Co. Before the death of his father in 1949 the family resided in Colorado and Tennessee.

Murray is president of the Senior Class an Honor Roll student, member of the Hi-Y club and three year member of the Band. He represented Denison at Boys State last year. He works after hours at the Safeway store. He has a brother Tim who is a sophomore.

Tom attended the McKinney schools from December, 1949 until the family moved to Denison August, 1953. His grandparents, Mrs. T. O. Murray and Mr. and Mrs. T. G. McBee of this city, are rejoicing over this good news.

Mr. Cox, along with 200 other active leaders in new car and truck association activities throughout the State will give his time to furthering the membership driye of the two associations he represents.

NADA is one of America's largest retail business associations, with a membership of over 31,000 retail new car and truck dealers in every state. It was founded in 1917, and has grown to be one of the most respected national associations in the United States.

TADA, the Texas association, is 40 years old and has a membership of over 1200 factory approved new car and truck dealers. It has been active in the development of Texas' fine driver education program, and many other public service projects.

The basic purpose of the two associations is to serve the public through making available to them reputable and responsible authorized retail automotive transportation outlets that stand behind their products and service work. This purpose is accomplished through the associations' help to dealers in their customer relations and sales and management operations.

Deputies Brooks and Thomas picked up an abandoned car four miles North of Josephine, which had been reported stolen in Rockwall. They also arrested a Negress near Wylie for drunkenness and disturbance.

WHAT'S NEW IN . . .

WASHINGTON

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (UP).—What's new in Washington:

The copyright section at the Library of Congress has received a couple of applications for songs about the rage of the young age—Elvis Presley. One would be titled "Elvis for President." The other "More Kissin' and Lovin and Rock and Roll."

The Pentagon has come out with the Thanksgiving menu for the armed forces.

The dishes will take care of servicemen and their dependents . . . things the government plans for all services:

Shrimp cocktail roast turkey with giblet gravy. Bread dressing. Cranberry sauce, whipped potatoes or glazed potatoes. Buttered green beans or butter corn. Associated crisp relishes. Parker house rolls and butter. Fruit cake. Pumpkin pie or mince meat pice. Fresh fruits. Coffee, tea, or milk, candy and nuts.

The Pentagon has world from Kaisersplauten, Germany, about one "sergeant officer" who claims that his name and army grade are confusing.

"When I was private officer the confusion was so thick that sometimes I was introduced as "officer private" the soldier says.

To get it straight. Right now the boy is Sgt. 1-C F. E. Officer, Jr. of Iola, Kan. — a member of the 84th Medical Detachment. In six more years, Sgt. Officer will be up for retirement.

"It still may be a mixed up mess" the soldier says. "Then I may be known as "Mister Officer."

Davey O'Brien Heads TCU Ex-Students Association

Davey O'Brien the famous All-American football star of 1938, was elected president of the Association for the next year. Honorary memberships were voted to eight persons. O'Brien is the son of D. E. O'Brien of McKinney.

O'Brien, now public relations director for an oil firm here, will succeed Roy Bacus as Association president. He led the Frogs' great 1938 team to an undefeated season, was unanimous All-American and won the Heisman Trophy as outstanding amateur athelete of the year.

Other officers elected Saturday were R. E. Glasgow of Waco, first vice-president; Eugene Cagle of Fort Worth, second vice-president; Mrs. Bryan Hanley, Fort Worth, recording secretary; Everett Shipp of Midland and Eugene Brisco of San Antonio, directors.

New Crop To Be Introduced Here By FFA Chapter

By LARRY SCOTT, REPORTER

Sorghum Almum, one of the most talked about crops in this part of the country this year, is due to be planted by McKinney vocational agriculture boys. There is no way of knowing what the crop will do in Collin County but if it does half as good here as in Wellington, it will be a big thing for this area.

Sorghum Almum was imported to this country some three years ago from New Zealand. It is highly drouth resistant and grows to heights of 10 to 12 feet, offering possibilities of large ensilage tonage if harvested that route. It also improves with each year's growth, up to four or five years.

This year it carried 19 head of cattle on seven acres through spring and summer with only three and a half inches of rainfall in Willington. Sorghum Almum has a sweet taste and is tender, so that stock eat considerably more of the stalk than they do of most forage.

Seed are planted in May or June in 40-inch rows. One and a half pounds are required to the acre. The fact that it is a drouth resistant crop may make it very popular. The plant grows in clusters, with 10 to 40 branches in each cluster.

VA Hospital Employe Given Special Award

When E. L. Kissinger, who is a Property and Supply Clerk with the supply division of the local VA Hospital, turned in his first suggestio nlast February it really paid off in dollars. Mr. Kissinger's suggestion was the designing and developing of an angle spacer to be used with the new electrical accounting machine used in the supply division.

The local hospital recognized the suggestion through its Incentive awards program and made Mr. Kissinger a cash award and because of the possible use of other stations, the contribution was forwarded to VA Central Office, Washington, D. C. The suggestion was adopted for use throughout the Supply Service of the Veterans Administration. This last week, the local hospital was directed to make an additional cash award to its deserving employee.

Mr. Kissinger has been with the local hospital about seven years. The management along with his fellow workers are pleased with this recognition.

Negro Witness In Theft Case Is Murdered

WICHITA FALLS —(UP).— Wichita county Sheriff Weldon Bailey said today that a Negro witness in a theft case, missing since March 7, was apparently murdered.

A body believed to be that of the witness, 35-year-old James Black of Wichita Falls, was found late Sunday near Burkburnett.

Bailey said a pathologist had determined that the victim died of a severe blow on the head.

Black was to have testified in the trial of Gene Paul Norris of Duncan, Okla., charged here with the theft of valuable oilfield equipment. Norris is free on $5,000 bond.

Black's wife told officers that effects found near the body were Black's. Investigators said he was last seen driving away from Wichita Falls in an automobile with two white men.

Houston Love Triangle Murder Trial Underway

HOUSTON (UP).—Six jurors remained to be selected at the start of proceedings today in the love triangle murder trial of 47-year-old Malcolm Hensarling of Houston.

Hensarling is accused of killing W. M. Russell last Aug. 22. Hensarling told police he shot Russell because Russell was "breaking up my home."

"I saw him out with my wife last night," he said on the day of the shooting.

Six jurors were chosen Monday. Defense attorney Robert Webb told the court, "There will be the issue of self-defense in this trial."

Hensarling, who said he had warned Russell to stay away from Mrs. Hensarling, said that just before the shooting Russell reached inside his automobile. "Not knowing if he a had a gun, I shot him," Hensarling told police.

Construction Crews Today Blast Huge Rock Cliff

LAKESIDE, Utah (UP). — Railroad construction crews today explode 600,000 pounds of powder with which they expect to blast a million tons of rock from a cliff near the great Salt Lake.

They also hoped to provide material for a causeway across the lake, and to give geologists more information about the earth's crust.

The blast was expected to be one of the largest non-atomic explosions ever set off.

The site was immediately south of the Southern Pacific Railroad's main line, on the western edge of the lake.

Engineers said the explosion might jiggle seismographs as far away as 700 miles to the west. Geologists said data they hoped to gather from seismographs and other instruments would help them learn more about the thickness of the crust.

The blast was designed to provide rock to be used in the railroad's $49 million four-year project of replacing with stone and concrete 12 miles of wooden trestle on Southern Pacific's famous Lucin cutoff across the northern end of Salt Lake.
